Queen of the Dark Chamber

"In addition to the spiritual value of this moving story, it is also a good source book for Chinese family life. Most books on China are written by Westerners. Sister Seven is a native, from a wealthy cultured and scholarly home. You get a true picture of Chinese family life...." Rev. Peter Y.F. Shih,

Director of the Chinese Mission of New England

A GREAT ADVENTURE OF A GREAT MYSTERY -

We are about to begin an adventure of a life time. An adventure to the oldest continuous civilization of the world, to a land filled with mystery and intrigue, to a land closed for hundreds of years to people from the West.

Our adventure begins in England, 1837, in the home of Hudson Taylor, a five your old boy pretending to be an explorer and missionary to China as his father reads the brilliantly illustrated travels of famous explorers. We will travel back with Hudson in his imagination to one such explorer - Marco Polo. We will ride past 'fortified castles and walled towns, creeping along twisting mountain roads in a caravan' until we meet the Emperor Khan of China.

Once in China we will see strange things - things that Marco Polo said no explorer from Europe had ever seen and returned to tell! However, the things we see, we will live to tell about. We will learn the mystery of the secret code embedded into the Ancient Chinese Oracle Bones - the code that confirms the mystery of the antediluvian world!

We will also learn the mystery of the four hearts:

One heart binds all in darkness.

One Heart dies to free them.

One heart lives to tell them

of the One Heart who rules them all.
